To the Editor:

Members of the 100 Black Men of Orange County "passed the hat" last week for Katrina victims' relief and raised $4,500 for the American Red Cross, in part thanks to a generous partial match from Solomon David Capital Advisors. Donations even came in from members whose own families are homeless and dispersed by the catastrophe. Requests for aid from smaller groups, churches and individuals have begun and are sure to increase. We thank our fellow OC residents for their compassion and urge them to continue their generosity in the months to come.
